

History

Students engage with communities in reinterpretations of shared pasts with cutting-edge tools for research and public programming while developing critical-thinking, problem-solving and communication skills.

“My history professors have genuine passion and enthusiasm for teaching and supporting their students. They’re all incredibly approachable and uplifting.”

Niki Joshi, History and English

History

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The UMKC History Department has acclaimed scholars who teach students critical thinking, analytic skills, historical literacy, cultural awareness, and our professors help them apply classroom knowledge in practical settings.

- » Students may choose to focus on one of five interest areas: Antiquity and Medieval, Early Modern and Modern Europe, Latin America, Public History and United States. A history major also intersects perfectly with other departments and interdisciplinary programs on campus.
- » The Digital History Lab enables students to explore the intersections of historical research and new media by producing innovative public history, oral history and digital history along with community partners.
- » History graduates successfully pursue nationally recognized graduate and professional programs, including at

Brown University, Columbia University, Emory University, Princeton University and Yale University.

GET INVOLVED

- » UMKC History Club: student group that promotes history appreciation and offers activities to engage with fellow historians.
- » Phi Alpha Theta: UMKC chapter of the American honor society for undergraduate and graduate students and professors of history.
- » American Historical Association (AHA) Career Development Program: networking and development program for graduate students.
- » UMKC History Graduate Student Association: social and academic organization for graduate students.
- » UMKC HistoryMakers Internship Program: graduate student program offering paid and unpaid internships.

STUDY ABROAD

The UMKC Office of Study Abroad and Global Engagement offers hundreds of programs in more than 50 countries, including semester- and year-long options. The History Department has a long-standing summer study abroad program in Ireland as well. Learn more at umkc.edu/international.
